

HISTORY OF SERVICE

Since its founding as a frontier outpost of the Western Reserve, Cleveland has been a great place to live. As our city and northeast Ohio continued to grow and prosper, its citizens established a great sense of community, one in which to raise a family and make a good living.... a community we can all be proud to call home!

Our police officers are an integral part of that community, protecting its citizens and their property. They can't do it alone, as every citizen plays a role in making our neighborhoods safer.

The Cleveland Division of Police has a proud and storied history of service. Members put their lives on the line every day for their fellow citizens. Since its inception, 109 Cleveland Police Officers have died in the line of duty. Needless to say, the Cleveland Police are committed to doing their part in working to make our community safer.

WHO WE ARE

In 2010, The Cleveland Police Foundation became the reality of police officials and civic visionaries after they identified a need to support the Division of Police for the City of Cleveland and the numerous activities they conduct on behalf of the community. Acting on the advice of three local civic leaders, Samuel H. Miller, Edward A. Lozick, and Thomas D. Ganley, former Police Chief Michael McGrath created an organization that held their collective dreams. Their vision, desire, and determination led to an organization that positively impacts the Division of Police and their endeavors to engage the community, to create opportunities for collaboration with neighborhoods, children, and adults, and be an integral part of the fabric of the community.

HOW THE CLEVELAND POLICE FOUNDATION IMPACTS THE CLEVELAND COMMUNITY

"Thank you so much for the generous gifts for the little girl who lost everything in the arson fire. The family was speechless and quite impressed with the outpouring of support, especially from the police. You truly are amazing! Merry Christmas to you, sir!"

- Steve: Cleveland Resident

"The Cleveland Police Foundation provides resources to Cleveland police officers that allow them to reach out to those in need in our community. These resources allow officers to take the time to get to know the people they serve, and to put into action true community policing. In the last few years that the Cleveland Police Foundation has been in existence we have seen just a small example of the compassion of our officers, and the possibilities are endless as we grow and expand with further resources through the donations by the Cleveland Police Foundation."

- Captain Keith Sulzer, CPD Community Policing & Liaison to the CPF

"We want to express our heartfelt thanks for paying the phone bills for Society for Nonviolent Change and The Youth Outreach Hotline. If not for those funds, we would have had to shut down a very vital service to the community."

In addition, we are extremely grateful for the award of funding for the programs which will be a valuable asset to help "bridge the gap" between the Cleveland Police Department and the residents of the City of Cleveland.

These programs will provide a safe haven environment for our youth and assist with prevention and intervention measures we need to engage their families and the residents in proactive solutions for the challenges they face on a daily basis."

- Gregory W. Terrell, Executive Director Society for Nonviolent Change

"The Cleveland Police Foundation is a great resource to go to. Over the past 7 years I have needed numerous things to help families and children... and the Cleveland Police Foundation always comes through for me, from diapers to clothing, to bicycles and books for needy families. This organization is great to go to because I have never been turned away for any help I needed. Thank you to the Cleveland Police Foundation!"

- P.O. Patty Katynski, #1199

"Our thanks to the Cleveland Police Foundation, Crime Stoppers, Cuyahoga Prosecutors Office, and the FBI Citizens Academy for making our critical "School Active Shooter Preparedness, Planning, and Response" training possible."

- Tom Armelli, President, Cleveland Police Museum

"I wanted to thank you for bringing my son a new bike after his Raleigh was stolen. Biking is his only means of getting to and from work, so he was really bummed when it was stolen. He loves the new bike, and we are both grateful for your help. Thank you for doing this for the community. Blessings!"

- Josie: Cleveland Resident

"The Cleveland Police Foundation has awakened the community's awareness of the importance of positive relations between our citizens and law enforcement. It has provided support, both financial and participatory, to The Greater Cleveland Peace Officers Memorial Society, the primary mission of which is to honor officers who have given their lives in the line of duty."

- Kathy Delaney, Executive Director, Greater Cleveland Peace Officers Memorial Society

Sadly, in its short history their members have rendered final honors to more than 75 law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty, and over 25 military personnel who made the ultimate sacrifice in defense of our country. www.cpdpipesanddrums.org
