OUR MISSION: Investing in a Safe Community

Established in 2010, the Cleveland Police Foundation is an alliance of business and civic leaders, organizations and individuals committed to the idea that an educated, well-trained and modernly equipped police department leads to a safer community for all. Its mission is to strengthen the bond between the Cleveland Division of Police and the citizens it serves through support for youth and community outreach programs, police charities, investment in advanced education and training, and funding for specialized equipment and technology in order to help our police officers better perform their duties. In addition, the CPF proudly supports these charities in accomplishing their mission: Cleveland Police Athletic League, Cleveland Police Historical Society & Museum, Greater Cleveland Peace Officers Memorial Society, Cleveland Police Pipes & Drums, Cleveland Police Honor Guard, Friends of the Cleveland Mounted Police and Cleveland Cops For Kids.

WELLNESS CHALLENGE

On September 14, 2013 the Division of Police launched its 2nd Annual Wellness Challenge. With the assistance of the Cleveland Clinic, and other partners over the next six months, the approximately 117 officers who volunteered to participate in the challenge to adopt and continue healthy lifestyles and get more physically fit will receive screenings, tests and tips on good health.

The CPF is a proud partner of this event along with the Black Shield Association, Care Plus, Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland Department of Health, Cleveland Police Patrolmen's Association, Cigna, Ease At Work, Euclid Hospital, Fitworks, Fraternal Order of Police Cleveland Lodge #8, Healthy Cleveland, Kaiser Permanente, Medical Mutual, RED Fitness, Thrive, and Vedas.

The 39 teams of 3 members each are competing for bragging rights for being the group with the most weight loss, best attendance, improved health readings and other factors determined by the committee. Due to the nature of this competition, every participant is a winner!

CHILDREN'S Holiday Party

The Cleveland Division of Police "Children's Holiday Party" will be held on Saturday, December 21, 2013. The goal is to have enough gifts and food to accommodate 6,000 kids and 2,500 adults at this invitation-only event, and to simply bring some fun and happiness to Cleveland's children in need during the holiday season. We want each child to leave the party with a toy, something to eat, and wonderful memories. Donations can be made to the Cleveland Police Foundation.

Admission tickets will be dispersed to children and families known to have the most need through the five Neighborhood Police Districts, Recreation Center managers, churches, Council members, non-profit organizations, and the CPD Bureau of Community Policing.

CPD Community Policing:

Another Success Story From the Law Enforcement Explorer Program

The Law Enforcement Explorer Program is available to high school students interested in a career in law enforcement offered by the CPD Bureau of Community Policing. Each year, 20-30 students participate. It has an amazing track record of developing good citizens, future police officers, and for those opting other career paths, ambassadors who understand policing in the City of Cleveland.

One of the more recent success stories is former Explorer Arica Sims.... now a United States Marine!

Arica was a participant in the LE Explorer Program for five years, the last two as class president. She recently graduated from the USMC Boot Camp at Parris Island. She credits the Cleveland Police Explorer program with helping her meet her personal challenges of high school, and after graduating from the program, entering the military. During her participation, she received the Explorer of the Year Award and honed her leadership skills, which will help in her military career. She also graduated in the top of her high school class.

Arica said, "The Explorers is an amazing program. It has taught me everything from teamwork to self-discipline. The program was a great help to me as I went through high school and Marine Boot Camp. It gave me a respect for authority and self-reliance. It taught me leadership skills. I know my experience in the Explorers will always be of great benefit to me, now and in the future, whatever profession I plan to pursue."

Bureau of Community Policing Commander Ellis Johnson stated, "Arica was always one of our most determined and dedicated members. She is a very special person and will go on to do a lot of great things."

Editor's Note: Arica is one of many success stories resulting from this program. Others will be featured in future editions of "The Partner" and on our website.

REMOVING GUNS FROM THE NEIGHBORHOODS

In early May, Mayor Frank G. Jackson and Chief of Police Michael McGrath announced that the 2013 ArcelorMittal - City of Cleveland Gun Buy-Back would be held on Saturday, June 15, 2013. The purpose was to get as many handguns and assault rifles out of the neighborhoods so they could not be used in the perpetration of violent crimes.

It was a huge success, with a total of 352 guns turned in, including 311 handguns and 41 long guns (assault rifles, shotguns and rifles).

On October 9, 2013, the firearms collected were melted at ArcelorMittal's Blast Furnace No. 1. The weapons will be part of the steel that goes into producing appliances, motor vehicles, and other consumer products.

BECOME A Community Partner

Since it's founding as a frontier outpost of the Western Reserve, Cleveland has been a great place to live. As our city and northeast Ohio continued to grow and prosper, its citizens established a great sense of community, one in which to raise a family and make a good living.... a community we can all be proud to call home!

Our police officers are an integral part of that community, protecting its citizens and their property. They can't do it alone, as every citizen plays a role in making our neighborhoods safer.

The Cleveland Division of Police has a proud and storied history of service. Members put their lives on the line every day for their fellow citizens. Since its inception, 107 Cleveland Police Officers have died in the line of duty. Needless to say, they're committed to doing their part in working to make our community safer.

We invite you to join with the Cleveland Police Foundation and invest in a safe community by becoming a Community Partner or placing an advertisement in our Annual Program. A CPF staff member stands ready to meet and discuss opportunities on how you can demonstrate your commitment to our city.

Opportunities exist in a wide range of options for your business or organization to partner with the

Fishing Outings Are A Big Splash

Two events were held this summer bringing police officers, volunteers and kids together to enjoy each other's company and do a little fishing. The outings provided the opportunity to have some fun, get to know each other and learn to work together. We're not sure who had a better time, the police officer and volunteers who mentored the kids, or the kids who were introduced to the sport.

On August 8th, the CPD Bureau of Community Policing, PAL & Cops For Kids programs partnered with the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, the Cleveland Clinic Foundation Police Department, and The Passion For Fishing program to sponsor an event at Wade Lagoon in Rockefeller Park on the City's east side. In cooperation with the City of Cleveland Recreation Centers 135 kids and 31 adults from throughout the city joined with 24 volunteers and police officers in an afternoon of learning to fish. The kids were provided with free fishing rods and reels, backpacks from CareSource, t-shirts, food & beverages.

On August 13th, 22 kids from the Boys & Girls Club of Cleveland were treated to a fishing excursion on Lake Erie on the "Holiday" charter boat. Shipping out from Edgewater Yacht Club, fishing was a bit limited due to the weather conditions, but the kids were treated to a tour of the harbor and Cuyahoga River. The kids, most whom had never been on a boat had a great time along with the POs who were on-board to show them the ropes. No one got seasick, and another great youth outreach event was in the books.

Back on dry land, the kids were treated to the opportunity to meet and talk with more police officers and their canine and equine partners, sit on the police motorcycles; and meet Mayor Frank G. Jackson, who joined them for lunch.

Our thanks to all who contributed to the Cleveland Police Foundation, the Edgewater Yacht Club, the Holiday Charter Boat and to the many volunteers who helped to make this event possible.

If funding can be obtained, our hopes are to host as many as eight such events next summer and the opportunity to reach out to more kids. If you are interested in sponsoring one of the outings and joining the crew, please contact our Director of Community Partnerships, Kathy Delaney at kdelaney@cleveland-policefoundation.org or 216-623-3333.

Many Ways to Partner

There are many ways to partner with the CPF. In addition to making financial contributions, employers, employee groups, organizations, and individuals can opt to work with one of our umbrella charities. For example, employees from a local company are looking into how they can assist the "Cops For Kids" program with making the holidays a little brighter for a few families who have fallen on hard times. Another is rounding up volunteers to assist the Greater Cleveland Peace Officers Memorial Society with hosting its annual Police Memorial Commemoration.

From Our President

MR. THOMAS K. STONE

As anticipated, 2013 has been a very exciting year for the Cleveland Police Foundation. Through the staff and board the CPF was directly involved or as a funder in several events and activities. In May we supported our umbrella charities in a 5K health and fitness event. In June we were able to sponsor another successful Gun Buyback, which 352 guns were taken off our streets; thus, making Cleveland a safer city. In August the CPF sponsored a fishing boat trip for 20 youth from the Boys & Girls Club with Chief Michael McGrath. Many of the young people had never been out on a boat. These types of activities help to strengthen the relationship between the police and our young people.

The CPF is working to help make Cleveland a very safe and desirable place to live, work and play. The strength of the CPF is the relationship shared with the police charities: Cleveland Cops For Kids, Cleveland Police Honor Guard, Cleveland Police Pipes & Drums, Cleveland Police Athletic League, Cleveland Police Historical Society, Friends of Cleveland Mounted Police and the Greater Cleveland Police Officers Memorial Society. Through the efforts of these organizations we are able to reach far and wide within our communities to make a positive impact. We continue to solicit your support in assisting us in achieving this worthwhile goal.

CPF Board Member Profile:

Woods King, III, Treasurer

In each edition of the “The Partner,” a member of the CPF Board of Directors or Board of Advisors is introduced to our readers. One of the most dedicated members of the Board of Directors is Woods King III.

An original member that helped to establish the CPF, Woods has attended every meeting and event since the foundations inception. His wisdom and good counsel play a critical role in operations. In addition to his many other contributions, he also serves as Treasurer on the Executive Committee.

Along with Brent Buckley, Woods founded Buckley King LPA in 1983 and serves as Chair of its Corporate & Transactions practice. He works closely with high-net-worth individuals to develop and implement comprehensive strategies to attain their unique intentions, including establishing charitable trusts, family held offices and private foundations.

Recognized as one of the “Top Rated Lawyers” in the field of Trusts & Estates Law by American Lawyer Media, Woods utilizes sophisticated estate planning techniques in preserving assets for future generations, reducing or postponing tax liability, planning for the succession of a business or family property and accomplishing philanthropic goals. Woods also advises on planning for tax-exempt entities, real estate development, land use, business transactions and corporate finance matters.

Hailing from a family with a long history of philanthropy and community involvement, Woods’ passion is support of the Cleveland Mounted Police. He has carries over that dedication to furthering the mission of the Cleveland Police Foundation.

Also serving as Trustee of the Cleveland Mounted Police Charitable Trust, established in 1985 to support the Cleveland Police Mounted Unit, it’s no wonder that Woods’ feels great pride in seeing the CPD Mounted Unit thrive. His grandfather, General Woods King of the U. S. Army Reserves 107th Cavalry, was also a huge supporter of the Mounted Unit, and whose honor the Unit’s stables are named. When asked to comment, Woods said in part, “There is no way to measure the value of the police horse and rider in terms of fostering positive police-community relations.”

The CPF and the members of the Division of Police express their sincere thanks to Woods for his dedication and community service.

UMBRELLA NOTES:

News from the organizations under the umbrella of the CPF...

The past few months have been busy for the umbrella charities and their corps of volunteers. In addition to their regular police duties, here are a few of their activities and accomplishments:

CLEVELAND POLICE HISTORICAL SOCIETY & MUSEUM: "MAKING POLICE HISTORY"

Cleveland Police Historical Society (CPHS) Board Member Dr. James Badal PhD and the Cleveland Police Museums were featured on the History Channel series "Haunted History" which aired in July. Producers were at the museum earlier this year doing a show about the infamous "Mad Butcher of Kingsbury Run.

The CPHS partnered with the National Law Enforcement Museum (NLEM) in Washington, D.C. as the Cleveland Indians sponsored a Law Enforcement Appreciation Night on August 9th as the Tribe hosted the Detroit Tigers. Almost 400 area law enforcement officers and their families watched as the Cleveland Police Honor Guard presented the Colors before the game and CPHS President Tom Armelli throw out the first pitch.

The Cleveland Police Museum was voted one of the Top 25 Free Attractions in Cleveland, and featured in the Cleveland Plain Dealer Friday magazine.

For further information about their unique and exciting exhibits, including museum hours go to www.clevelandpolicemuseum.org.

GREATER CLEVELAND PEACE OFFICERS MEMORIAL SOCIETY: KEEPING THE PROMISE TO NEVER FORGET OUR FALLEN HEROES

- The Cleveland Browns again demonstrated their support of our safety forces by hosting a First Responders Day on Sunday, November 3, 2013 against the Baltimore Ravens. A portion of the proceeds were donated to the Greater Cleveland Peace Officers Memorial and the Cleveland Fire Fighters Memorial funds.

- Thanks to Bob Gillingham Ford for their donation of a fully restored, street-ready 1950 Ford Custom Coupe that was the grand prize of a raffle to benefit: the Norma Herr Woman's Shelter, the Three-Deuce-Five Foundation (supports 3/25 USMCR in Brook Park and other veterans' causes), and the GCPOMS.

- The GCPOMS' 29th Annual Police Memorial Commemoration will be held May 15-18, 2014. Held each year in mid-May, it is reputed to be one of the finest of such events in North America. Drawing hundreds of officers from throughout the U.S, Canada and abroad, it contributes an estimated $1.8 million annually to the local economy, including the sale of approximately 1,500 hotel room nights.

- Two national conventions will be held in conjunction with the PMC: the National Police Collectors Show will bring over 300 hobbyists for its annual convention to Cleveland Public Auditorium, May 16-18, 2014. The Police Car Owners & Operators Association of America will hold its national conference, May 15-18th, and will bring in 60-90 classic, antique police cars and their owners to exhibit and drive throughout town. That should turn some heads.

UMBRELLA NOTES:

CLEVELAND POLICE PIPES & DRUMS

Taking their unique and stirring blend of music and marching skills public, these “kilted ambassadors” represent the LE community of NE Ohio, the Division of Police, and the City of Cleveland in a grand manner. Travelling throughout Ohio, the U.S., Canada and Ireland at their own expense, the members practice on their own time, purchase their own instruments and perform in support of countless charitable causes and civic events, including this year the West Park Independence Day Parade, Shannon McBride Memorial Scholarship Fund, “Operation Open Heart,” and the International Senior Games Opening Ceremony, just to name a few.

In addition to supporting charitable causes and civic events, their members also participate in the rendering of final honors to police officers throughout Ohio and surrounding states that die in the line of duty, and members of our armed forces from the region killed while on active duty.

FRIENDS OF THE CLEVELAND MOUNTED POLICE

The 2nd Annual Downtown Ride was held on Saturday, September 14, 2013. Over 150 riders and supporters turned to raise funds to benefit the CPD Mounted Unit. Organized by the Ohio Farm Bureau, the event doubled in size from last year and promises a great future. Upon conclusion of the ride, a “gathering” was held in the Municipal Parking Lot along the Shoreway where a band entertained the guests and refreshments and souvenirs were available.

COPS FOR KIDS

The Cleveland Cops for Kids organization is a relatively new program, but it already has established a successful track record due the devotion of its volunteers and supporters.

A young mother and her two-year-old child were given much needed moral and financial support as they began a fresh start after being victims of domestic violence crimes. Members of the organization and 5th District police officers provided them with furniture, clothing, food, and volunteered their time to help them move into a new home. The young family was quite appreciative of the efforts of the officers from the 5th District and the Cops For Kids program.

Bicycles were provided during the summer months to children who were victims of a crime and also children who were rewarded for being good citizens. One boy, returning home from a recreation center, was approached by a group of youths who forcefully took the child's bike from him. When members of the organization delivered him a new bike he gladly repaid the officers with a hug and big smile.

Preparing for the winter months, program volunteers organized two clothing drives within the Division of Police. The response was outstanding as clothes for children of all ages were collected from police officers, dispatchers, employees and their families & friends. Encouraging community involvement, a youth group volunteered to help collect and organize the cleaning and storage of all of the donated items. The clothing will be distributed to those in need during the coming months as officers encounter kids in need.

To garner support, the Cops & Kids Program Director, Sgt. Tim Higgins, made a presentation to the Norman S. Minor Bar Association, who graciously made a donation to Cleveland Cops for Kids to assist in furthering its mission.

For further information, call 216-623-3333.

THE CLEVELAND POLICE ATHLETIC LEAGUE: EVERY KID NEEDS A PAL!

In addition to their activities mentioned elsewhere, others include:

Hosted a Straight Shooter Archery session on a beautiful summer day at in the Cleveland Metroparks' Albion Millstream Reservation in Strongsville, OH. Twenty youngsters, five adult chaperones, and two police officers had a great time learning a new skill and outdoor activity. Sincere thanks to the Crooked River Archery Club, which co-sponsored the event and provided all the equipment and instruction, along with the Ohio Department of Natural Resources Division of Wildlife. PAL extends special thanks to Sam Arendec who volunteered his time as coach and instructor.

Editor's Note: PAL is hoping to make this an ongoing program and is looking for a [donated] facility to install an indoor archery range so it can offer the sport all year.

Reddog Football Program: sponsors four youth football teams and cheerleading squads for kids from ages 6 to 17. A total 18 adult coaches volunteer to work with 155 boys and girls play on the teams, along with 30 girls cheering them on.

Youth Boxing Program: sponsors this program with 57 kids coached by 9 adult volunteers.
