THE MISSION OF THE POLICE ATHLETIC LEAGUE

As a police officer for over 33 years, I have, unfortunately, seen many horrific things, arrested hundreds of criminals, and have spoken to hundreds of crime victims over the years. Even with good police work and successfully arresting and convicting many of the perpetrators, I quickly realized the damage and trauma to all involved had already been done. I often wondered, how could we help stop these terrible crimes from happening, before a victim, their friends, and family members were forever traumatized? At the same time, how could we help prevent a young person from destroying their lives and becoming just another incarcerated statistic?

Simply stated, the mission of the Cleveland Police Athletic League, is to do everything in our power to prevent a crime from happening in the first place. PAL does this by providing good and positive activities for youngsters and by providing them with good adult role models to encourage and support them. We use our sports programs to teach youngsters things like teamwork, sportsmanship, perseverance, and self-discipline. It also promotes physical activity and healthy lifestyles. Most importantly, PAL gives our youth an option from life on the streets and lets them know that law enforcement officers are here to help and support them.

In addition to sports, PAL also provides other programming for children who have other interests besides athletics. PAL tries to expose youngsters to activities they would not normally have a chance to participate in, things like our Youth Outdoors program, where kids can experience nature and outdoor activities like kayaking and archery. Our Builders of Tomorrow program gives our young adults the opportunity to learn a skilled trade so they can have a lucrative profession in the future.

CLE PAL currently sponsors eight boxing clubs throughout the city and several boxing competitions throughout the year.. Hundreds of young people participate on a daily basis at our local gyms and events. The boxing program is, historically, one of our longest and most popular programs.

The Cleveland Police Athletic League has been serving the City of Cleveland for over 85 years. We've helped thousands of youngsters over the years but our job has just begun. PAL is needed now more than ever. Please consider investing in our youth by providing an annual contribution. By supporting the Cleveland Police Athletic League you will be reducing crime, making citizens less fearful of the police, and most importantly, saving lives. Thank you for your time and consideration.
